

Index

- Adams, 224
 addition of previously burned and crushed fresh- water sponges into clay as a temper, 94
 addition of temper in order to reduce excessive shrinkage during forming and firing, 89
 agricultural resources, 216
 agriculture, 3
 agriculture and export-orientated pottery production, 224
 alkali filter pots, 167
 Allchin and Allchin, 1
 Amphlett Island potters, 99
 anvils, 104, 133, 165, 190, 207 areal and temporal distributions of bleb-temper, 186
 argillaceous inclusions, 230
 argillaceous inclusions in thin-section, 91
 Arnold, 11, 209, 216
 artificial grog, 91
 assessment of physical production evidence, 86
 assimilation, 189, 191, 219, 221
 attribute, 10–11, 14–16, 21
 authigenic calcite, 136
- Ban Chiang, 17, 194
 Ban Chiang chronology, 194–195
 Ban Chiang Hian, 20, 192
 Ban Chiang MP VII, 204
 “Ban Chiang Painted”, 195
 “Ban Chiang Painted” pottery, 204
 Ban Chiang pottery was imported, 213
 Ban Chiang vessels, 194
 Ban Kham O, 213
 Ban Kho Noi and Non Noi, 175
 Ban Koeng, 18
 Ban Lao Suan Kluai, 230
 Ban Mo, 18
 Ban Muang Phruk, 206
 Ban Muang Phruk fabric distributions, 174
 Ban Muang Phruk wares, 185
 Ban Na Di, 104
 the presence of “Om Kaeo”sherds, 195
 Ban Na Di and Ban Chiang, 207
 Ban Na Di and Nong Sung, 189
 Ban Na Di clay, 133
 Ban Na Di fabric groups 6 and 9, 204
 Ban Na Di firing atmospheres, 137
 Ban Na Di MP1 local ware pots, 143
 Ban Na Di pottery, 105
 Ban Na Di seals, 221
 Ban Na Kraseng, 19
 Ban Nong, 18
 Ban Om Kaeo, 194, 203
 Ban Om Kaeo vessel forms, 202
 Ban Phak Top, 223
 Ban Phan Luang, 19
 Ban Pluai, 233
 Ban Tak Det, 182
 Ban Tong, 195, 223
 Bayard’s “type 4b footed bowls”, 131
 Bayard, 12, 96, 182, 194–195, 199, 205, 217, 264
 Bayard et al., 174–175
 “beaker forms”, 195
 beaker ware studies, 15
 Birkeland, 69
 “black to grey burnished and incised”, 195
 Blatt et al., 64
 bleached biotite, 72
 bleb grog, 233
 bleb manufacture is more complicated than the orthodox grog method, 100
 bleb temper, 101, 131, 186
 bleb-tempered fabric 12, 140
 bleb-tempered pottery, 206
 bleb-tempered wares, 189
 blended, mixture, 229
 blending, 184

- blending of clays, 100
 bloating and vitrification structures, 137
 Bo Phan Khan, 176
 bow pellets, 104
 broad scale developments, 191
 Bronson, 15, 221
 Bronson and White, 194
 bronze casting, 104, 188, 221
 bronze slag, 166
 Brydon, 72
 Brydon et al., 94
 burial context fabrics, 105
- Calder, 18
 carbonaceous particles derived from combusted plant material, 229
 carbonized husk, 230
 Carozzi, 70
 Carroll, 46
 carved chlorite bowls, 223
 Caskey, 221
 Central Highlands, 183
 central places, 209
 centralised polities, 191
 centrality of Ban Chiang, 209 centres specializing in pottery
 manufacture, 225
 ceramic production, 224
 ceramic rings, 104
 ceramic seals, 221
 ceremonial wares, 131
 chalcedonic and mosaic chert, 71
 chalcedonic quartz, 71
 Chang and Loresto, 216
 change and external influences at Ban Na Di, 188
 change in temper species, 100
 changes from orthodox to bleb grog at Ban Na Di, 168
 changes in temper species can reflect major cultural changes, 85
 Chansen, 221
 Chantaratiyakarn, 21, 174–175, 186
 Chappell, 38
 Chappell and Thom, 38
 characterising artificial grog tempers in thin-section, 91
 Chi Valley, 104
 Chi Valley fabrics, 189
 Chi Valley imports, 169
 Chi Valley links, 220
 Chi Valley sites, 174
 child jar burials, 104
 chlorites, 44
 Chongpan and Nares, 39, 81
 Christaller's theory, 209
 chronological distributions of Ban Kho Noi and Non Noi fabrics, 175
 chronological framework for Ban Na Di, 183 chronology for Ban Chiang Hian, 175 Clarke, 10
 class, 14
 classes of additives in ceramic fabrics, 100
 clay 10, 212
 clay 5, a source near to Ban Chiang and Ban Om Kaeo, 202
 clay moulds, 221
 "clay pellets", 89
 clay rollers, 220
 "clay temper", 89
 climate, 38
 Coedes, 1
 comparisons of pottery with clay, 128 competition from aluminium cooking vessels, 96
 composite grains, 71
 conservation of imported Nong Kham Din
 clay, 130
 conservatism, 98
 Cooper, 101
 copied forms, 204
 cordmarking twist terms, 242
 cordmarks, 168
 crucible fabrics, 190
 crucibles, 104, 166
 crucibles made from untempered local Ban Na Di clay, 169
 crucibles manufactured from untempered
 local clay, 190
 Cruijs, 37
 cultural change, 208
 cultural change at Ban Na Di, 173
 curvilinear and geometric designs, 194
 "curvilinear incised", 195

- Dalton, 224
 Darvill and Timby, 98
 Deer, Howie and Zussman, 42
 determining the maturity of terrigenous sediments, 64
 diatoms, 64
 differential access to prestige goods, 205
 differential resource access favours craft specialisation, 208
 differential use of local clay in figurines, 95 differential use of local versus imported clays, 208
 diffusion, 189, 191, 219
 discontinuity in existing ceramic
 manufacture, 192
 disordered kaolinite, 43
 distinguishing between natural or purposely added inclusions, 87
 distribution of bleb tempered wares, 206
 distributions of Sakon Nakhon Basin
 wares, 189
 Don Klang, 223
 Don Taphan, 176
 donor industry, 97
 drusy sparite, 64, 72
 Dumond, 191, 205

 earliest ceramic tradition, 111
 early GP A and B sites, 220
 early iron-working in Southeast Asia, 104 early mortuary phase (MP1), 104
 early tradition, 191
 Eastern Sakon Nakhon Basin influence, 184
 Eastern Sakon Nakhon Basin
 metallurgists, 190
 Eastern Sakon Nakhon Basin pottery traditions, 184
 economic redistributive system, 223
 Edwards and Segnit, 136
Ephydatia meyeri, 71, 92 establishing relative chronologies, 225 exchange networks, 191
 exchange of “secondary products”, 216
 exchange relationships between the Chi Valley and the Sakon Nakhon Basin, 191
 exchange-induced diffusion, 191
 exotic fabrics, 190
 exotic fabrics originating outside the Sakon Nakhon Basin, 162
 exotic rim types, 168
 exotic rims, 190
 exotic wares, 168, 183, 219
 expertise in ceramic production, 97 export-orientated production, 3

 fabric distributions, 190
 fabric group 1, 228
 fabric group 2, 229
 fabric group 2 and 4 form correlations, 131
 fabric group 3, 131, 229
 fabric group 3 vessels, 128
 fabric group 4, 229
 fabric group 5, 230
 fabric group 6, 195, 230
 fabric group 7, 232
 fabric group 8, 230
 fabric group 9, 195, 230
 fabric group 10, 231
 fabric group 11, 231
 fabric group 12, 133, 233
 fabric group 13, 231
 fabric group 14, 232
 fabric group 15, 232
 fabric group 16, 140, 233
 fabric types, 144
 fabric/form elements, 31
 fabrics from Nong Non Chik, 232 figurines, 95, 104
 figurines from MP1 burial and level 7 occupational contexts, 140
 figurines modelled from the Ban Na Di
 clay, 95
 firing atmosphere, 132
 firing durations, 134
 firing methods, 134
 firing temperatures, 134
 firing temperatures achieved by MP1 Ban Na Di potters, 135
 firing temperatures reflected in Ban
 Chiang “ware types”, 137
 Flannery, 85, 216
 floating rice, 220
 Folan and Hyde, 221

- Folk, 42
 form categories, 112, 143
 form variants, 144
 form-plus-fabric types, 144
 forms are often copied, 144
 Foster, 97
 Freestone, 23, 182
 fresh water sponge spicules, 71
 Fried, 205
 “Funan”, 221
 funerary furniture, 96
 furnace fragments, 167
 furnace remains, 104
- Galloway, 38
 Galloway and Loffler, 216
 Gardin, 31
 Geertz, 216
 General Periods, 218
 Gibbs, 45
 Gillen, 34
 Glanzman and Fleming, 18, 86, 204, 207
 glass beads, 221
 Gliessman, 93
 globular cord-marked vessels with decorated fields, 194 “goblets”, 131
 goethite, 73
 Goody, 216, 223
 Gorman and Charoenwongsa, 104, 194
 granitic source, 232
 graphic isomorphism, 132
 green hornblende, 205–206, 232
 Griffin, 35
 Grim, 42, 212
 grog, 3, 100, 186
 grog particles in thin-section, 229
 grog temper development, 218 grog temper may represent a response to a lack of natural tempers, 89
 grog-tempered bell beaker ware, 89
 grog-tempered “thin white” Don Taphan ware, 176
- Haggett, 208
 Hamer and Hamer, 42
 Hammond, 85
- Harris, 132
 Harrison, 71
 Hastings, 205
 Hastings and Liengsakul, 38
 heavy minerals, 64
 heavy seasonal rainfall, 40
 hematite, 69
 high humidity, ceramic industries are seriously affected, 38
 high-quality clays, 213
 Higham, 96, 175, 185, 205, 216, 219
 Higham and Kijngam, 104, 174, 188, 191,
 194, 208, 216, 223–224
 Higham et al., 186
 Hittite, 1
 Ho, 23
 Hodges, 89, 218
 Hope and Hope, 38, 216
 Houghton and Wiriyaromp, 189
 Hulthen 1974, 14
- identification of argillaceous inclusions, 206
 identification of trade/exchange networks, 205
 igneous country rock, 199
 illites, 43
 immigrant potters, 97, 184
 importance of exotic pottery as prestige goods, 224
 imported anvils, 189
 imported clay, 95
 imports from the Khorat Basin, 188 “incised and painted”, 195
 incised and painted wares, 203
 incised and slipped or painted fields, 194
 incorrect blending of short and plastic
 clays, 129
 infant burial urns, 140
 initial vitrification, 91
 interregional exchange, 189
 intersite chronological correlations, 194
 iron oxide, 69
 iron oxide paint, 200
 iron slag, 188
 iron working, 220
 iron-rich inclusions, 231
 iron-working at Ban Na Di, 104

- irrigated cereal and inundation rice cultivation, 216
- Irwin, 97
- isotropism, 231
- itinerant metallurgists, 208
- Javanaphet, 81
- Johnson, 224
- judgemental sampling, 143
- kaolinite, 42
- kernels from level 7 at Ban Na Di, 216
- Kerr, 42
- Khok Charoen, 17, 93, 182
- Khok Charoen fabric groups, 182
- Khok Phanom Di, 93, 101, 183, 185, 208
- Khorat Basin, 37
- Khorat Basin exchange network, 191
- Khorat Basin fabrics and Sakon Nakhon Basin wares, 185
- Khorat Basin imports, 190
- Khorat Basin wares, 190
- Khorat Plateau ceramic industries, 186
- Kidder, 25
- Kijngam, 216, 224
- Kijngam et al., 104, 173, 187, 264
- Krause, 94
- Kuhn, 26
- Kumpawaphi area, 104
- Kumphawapi and Mahasarakham regions, 264
- ladle fragment, 165
- Lamarck, 92
- Lamberg-Karlovsky, 223
- Late Period at Ban Chiang, 206
- Late Tertiary-Early Quaternary orogeny, 40
- laterite, 73
- lattice distortion, 208
- Lauer, 99
- Lerna sealings, 221
- levigated clay, 166
- lime-nodule conglomerate, 81
- limonite, 69
- Linnē, 94
- local and imported clays were blended, 130
- local bleb-tempered rimforms, 190
- local bleb-tempered wares at Ban Na Di., 189
- local raw materials, 192
- local tempering material, 84
- local ware goblets, 131
- Loei region, 182
- Loei sites, 93
- Loffler (et al.), 38
- Mailu, 97
- Maniatis and Tite, 135
- manufactured grog, 87
- marriage exchange, 168
- Mason, 42
- material culture, 191
- materials can be considered as modes of communication sui generis, 99
- Matson, 27
- May and Tuckson, 85
- McGovern, 17
- McGovern et al., 204, 229
- McKern, 35
- Meacham and Solheim, 135
- megaquartz, 71
- megasccleres), found in 2000-year-old pottery associated with Sudanese White Nile sites, 94
- “mentalism” paradigm, 34
- Mesopotamia, 223
- micaceous clays, 81
- micaceous fabric group, 231
- micaceous shale, 81
- microlites, 70
- microquartz, 71
- mineral zones, 81
- mineralogically distinctive materials, 215
- mixed-layer clay material, 46
- mixed-layer clay minerals, 46, 72
- mode of decoration, 204
- modern bleb-tempered fabrics, 88
- modern manufactories, 173
- modes of pottery production, 98
- modes of production, 33
- monocrystalline quartz, 66
- monsoon (Koppen Aw) tropical zone, 38
- monsoon conditions, 216
- Moorman et al., 37

- mortuary and occupation level vessel fabrics, 127
- mortuary phase 2 infant burial urns, 189
- mortuary ritual, 208
- mortuary ware of ritual significance, 132
- mosaic microcrystalline chert, 71
- moulding technique, 133
- moulds, 104
- movement of potters between different clay source areas, 208
- MP1 anvil fabric, 133
- MP1 Ban Na Di pottery, 112
- MP1 bronze workers, 169
- MP1 clay source, 133
- MP1 clay source at Nong Kham Din, 192
- MP1 crucibles, 133, 168
- MP1 figurine fabrics, 133
- MP1 local pottery manufacture, 188
- MP1 local ware fabric groups and exotic
fabric groups, 127
- MP1 manufacture, 167
- MP2 anvils, 133
- MP2 burial urns, 168
- mullite, 263
- muscovite, 44
- natural distributions of distinctive source rocks, 215
- new ceramic technology, 208
- new technology, 191
- new tradition, 191
- “Nga Ngua Buff”, 182
- nodal locations in exchange networks, 209
- node connectivity, 208
- Noen Phrik, 182
- Non Chai, 20, 175, 184, 206
- Non Chai bleb-tempered fabric groups, 175
- Non Chai plain wares, 185
- Non Dua, 176
- Non Kao Noi, 174, 204
- Non Na Nong Khong, 182
- Non Nok Tha, 14, 20, 93, 182, 223
- Non Nok Tha “soft sand” temper, 199
- Non Nong Chik, 199
- Non Nong Chik and Non Nok Tha temper groups, 180
- Non Nong Chik fabrics, 182
- Non Sung clay, 133
- Non U Mung, 182
- “non-cultivated rice”, 218
- “Nong Bua Buff”(Bayard 1980), 195
- Nong Kham Din clay, 95, 133
- Nong Nok Chik, 93
- Nong Sung clay, 233
- Oc Eo, 221
- occupation sequence, 104
- “Om Kao”, 194
- opaline bodies, 72
- origin of bleb-tempered wares, 184
- origin of spicules in ceramics, 94
- orthodox grog, 100
- orthodox grog and bleb-tempered rims
considered local to Ban Na Di, 162
- orthodox grog dominance, 189
- orthodox grog temper, 202
- “orthodox”grog, 228
- orthoquartzitic sandstone, 81
- overgrowths, 74, 78
- Pa Mong region, 264
- paddy rice agriculture, 216
- paddle and anvil construction, 129, 231
- paddle and anvil method, 132
- painted decoration, 168
- “painted”wares, 204
- “paradigm”, 26
- Peacock, 2–3, 9, 23, 27–28, 32–34, 41, 84–85, 92, 143
- Pecos Conference, 26
- Pebbles and Kus, 205
- pellets, 165
- perforated sherds, 104
- perforated vessels, 167
- permanent settlements, 216
- Petchabun piedmont, 183
- petrographic analysis, 215
- petrographic techniques, 217
- Phillips et al., 35
- Phimai, 185
- “Phimai Black”, 195
- Phimai region, 176
- Phu Phan Range, 39
- Phu Wiang fabric, 200

- Phu Wiang motif, 195
 phytoliths, 64, 229
 pictorial messages, 132
 Pilditch, 221
 plagioclase feldspar zone, 82, 230 plagioclase zone, 201, 206
 plasticity, 44
 Plato, 1
 plough agriculture, 216
 polycrystalline quartz, 70
 Popper, 26
 population movements, 191
 post-deposition adhesions of calcium and iron, 129
 post-depositional calcium, as a fluxing agent, 136
 potassium feldspar, 73 “potters’ marks”, 168
 potters are technically conservative, 100
 pottery exchange between the Khorat and Sakon Nakhon Basins, 216 pottery is in a sense a metamorphic rock, 233
 pottery production with rice cultivation, 216
 pottery sense, 8, 91
 pottery “types”, 143
 pottery users and producers, 213
 potting clay, 45, 212
 potting clays adjacent to Ban Chiang contain quartz varieties diagnostic of mineralogically mature reworked quartzarenites, 207 Preecha and Pukajorn, 21, 194 prestige attached to exotic wares, 183 prestige attached to traded wares is emphasized through local copies, 204 prestige ware distributions in mortuary contexts, 96
 principal source of pottery during MP1, 188 production in similar environments in terms of the temper chosen, 189 production schedules, 216
 proximity of sources, 133
 purposely manufactured temper, 87
 Quaritch-Wales, 11
 quartz overgrowths, 81
 quartzarenite rock fragments, 230
 quartzite, 70
 raft firings, 135
 ranking, 219
 rationality principle, 27
 ratooning, 220
 raw clays often require processing before they are suitable for pottery, 89
 Rawson, 131
 Red River Valley, 216
 “red slipped and burnished”, 195
 “red-on-buff painted”, 195
 red-painted or slipped wares, 184
 Redman, 208
 reduction, 203
 regional exchange system, 208
 regional nature of “Om Kao”wares is repeated again in “Ban Chiang Painted”wares, 212 regional type, 204
 regionality in pottery exchange, 208
 relative significance of Ban Na Di, 224
 Renfrew, 85, 205, 208, 217, 219, 224
 Renfrew and Cooke, 26, 221, 224
 review of technological studies, Matson, 35
 reworked sediments, 80
 rice, 100, 131, 229
 rice cultivation, 216
 rice husk, 91, 199, 203, 206, 218, 230
 rice husk tempered fabrics, 212
 rice impressions, 131
 rice phytoliths, 72
 rice steaming, 167
 rice surpluses, 218
 rice tempered pottery from Ban Suai and Ban Prasat, 232 Rigby, 42
 rim fabric plus form associations, 162
 rim fabrics, 144
 rimforms, 104, 226
 rimsherds, 143
 Rio Grande, 25
 Rio Grande geology, 27
 ritual clay objects, 97

- rod-like ceramic artefacts, 167
 Roi Et, 185
 Roi Et fabrics, 176
 rutile, 64
 Rutnin's temper class "clay, sand and chaff", 175
 Rutnin, 21, 143, 175, 182, 184, 206
 Rye, 98
- Sørensen's fruit stands ("tou", 131
 Sabloff and Lamberg-Karlovsky, 224
 Sakon Nakhon Basin, 38
 Sakon Nakhon Basin ceramic traditions, 189
 Sakon Nakhon Basin exchange networks, 191
 Sakon Nakhon Basin pottery manufactories, 191
 Sakon Nakhon Basin regional geology, 81
 Sakon Nakhon Basin sequence, 187
 Sakon Nakhon Basin sources, 183
 Sakon Nakhon Basin wares, 190 scale of bleb ware production, 218 Schaufler, 223
 seals and glass beads in association with iron, 223
 second mortuary phase (MP2), 104
 sedimentary deposition, 215
 sedimentary regions, 2
 Seeley and Rajpitak, 166
 Selkirk and Adamson, 94
 sericite, 44
 Serrano, 94
 sgraffito, 176
 shale, 81
 Shepard's pioneer work in the Rio Grande, 84
 Shepard, 25, 35, 204, 224, 229
 Sherrat, 216, 220
 "short"clays, 62
 shrinkage and drying problems, 45
 shrinkage and firing properties, 93
 silicified plant asterosclereids, 72
 Simpkins and Allard, 94
 site hierarchy, 208
 smectites, 43
 Smith, 36
 social ranking, 205, 208
 social status, 96
 sociopolitical control, 223
 socketed bronze ploughshares, 216
 Solheim, 18
 Solheim and Ayres, 195
 Spaulding, 36
 specialised potters, 208
 specialist production centres, 213
 spectrographs, 46
 spicules, 64, 82
 spicules as natural inclusions, 94 spiral or circular designs, 195 sponge spicules, 94, 96
 stains, 63
 status, 97
 status attached to potters, 98
 Sting Mor, 18
 Strahler, 216
 stratigraphic break, 188
 stratigraphic discontinuity at Ban Na Di, 187
 stratigraphic levels, 104
 stratigraphical association of old and new ceramic traditions, 189 style analysis, 11, 204
 style-derived groupings of prehistoric Thai ceramics, 195 style-orientated assumptions, 226 stylistic crossdating, 194 stylistic "provisional type", 205
 stylistically orientated characterisations of Southeast Asian ceramics, 194
 subphases 1a-c., 104
 subsistence strategies, 188
 subspecies of grog, 87
 surface collected fabrics, 173
 surficial oxidation, 229
 swelling clays, 43
 "swelling"clay minerals, 46
 symbolic designs, 99
 symbolic expression, 99
- Tamyae tradition, 232
 technological analysis of ceramics, 215 technological conservatism, 91
 technological conservatism of potters, 98
 technological evidence, 264

- technological identification of intrusive pottery, 207
 technological studies, 86
 temper specie identification, 206 “temper-typing”, 86
 tempering methods, 189
 tempers, 87
 temporal model, 187
 “terrace model”, 38
 textural and mineralogical maturities, 81
 Tham Pha Phim, 182
 the movement of bleb wares into the Sakon Nakhon Basin, 186
 theme that unites potters, 98
 thixotropy, 44
 tin deposits, 191
 tokens, 221
 transformation of ceramic methods at Ban Na Di, 191
 Tucker, 215
 Tung Kula Ronghai, 40
 Twiss, 72
 Twiss et al., 94
 type-variety, 15
 “type-variety” concept, 35
 types, 226

 U Thong, 221
 ultrastable quartzes, zircon, tourmaline and rutile, 207 utilitarian and ornamental wares, 104
 utilitarian pottery production, 209
 utilitarian wares, 130

 Van der Leeuw, 33
 van Esterick, 204
 vermiculite, 44, 72
 vermiculites, 43
 Vernon, 206
 vitrification observed in fabric group 1, 136
 vitrification stages, 136
 vitrification structures, 135
 volcanism, 40

 “wasters”, 87
 Watson’s pedestal bowls, 131
 Watson, 17, 20, 182

 “wedging”, 63
 Weinberg, 131
 Welch, 176, 185
 wet-rice cultivation, 220
 Wheat, 35
 Wheatley, 223
 Whitbread, 87, 229
 White, 16, 104, 194–195, 204, 206–208, 218, 220, 225 “white mica”, 64
 whole vessel forms, 127
 whole vessels, 127
 “whole” vessel distributions, 190
 Wichakana, 21, 174
 Widing et al., 94
 Wilding and Drees, 72
 Williams and Jenkins, 217
 Williams et al., 42

 X-Ray diffractometer, 45
 XRD results, 46

 Yoshida et al., 72

 zircon, 64